About the Visiting Clerkship Program:

The Minority Faculty Development Program of Harvard Medical School (HMS) sponsors a Visiting Clerkship Program (VCP) for medical students, particularly African-American, Hispanic/Latino and American Indian/Alaska Native students in their fourth year of medical school. Third-year medical students in their last quarter, who have completed core clerkships in medicine, surgery, pediatrics and obstetrics, are also eligible. The VCP is offered throughout the calendar year and electives are available at HMS-affiliated institutions that include:

- Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center
- Brigham and Women’s Hospital
- Brockton/West Roxbury VA Hospitals
- Boston Children’s Hospital
- Cambridge Health Alliance
- Dana Farber Cancer Institute
- Harvard Vanguard Medical Association
- Joslin Diabetes Center
- Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary
- Massachusetts General Hospital
- McLean Hospital
- Mount Auburn Hospital
- Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital

Financial Assistance and Networking Support:

The program will reimburse up to $400 toward the cost of traveling to and from Boston and will provide housing for participating students. Clerkship students are assigned a faculty advisor, can meet with Residency Training Program Directors or their associates and are offered the opportunity to network with HMS faculty, house-staff and students. The program hosts a Minority Faculty/Student Dinner each month for our visiting students.
